

Norman Bub Cole

November 1, 1964 - July 17, 2024

Norman J. Cole was born November 1, 1964, and left this earth on July 17th, at 10:20 pm at Ozarks Healthcare Hospital. He has been reunited with many family members in a joyous meeting where we presumed to be heavens gates.

Norman, who we all called “Bub,” was born in Gaylord, Michigan to mother Louise Mabel Hicks and father Norman Leroy Cole. Norman is survived by his son, Andrew J. Cole and grandchildren Kadyne and Kaleb Cole; daughter Amanda Ruiz and grandchildren Jesse and Mason; daughter Amber Bradley and spouse Alex and grandchildren Mattie, Katherine, Cheyenne, Savanna, Viola, and Evie; and his late son Mathew and his wife and children; Hailey his daughters Hailey, Harmony, Breanna and sons Trevor and Bentley. Bub left behind his beloved girlfriend Rachel Cole where he has stood side by side for the last decade.

Bub loved all things outdoors and family. Whether it been a boat, a fishing pole, a tree stand or a rabbit dog, you would bet Bub was down to do any of it. He loved the lake, and taking his dogs hunting but something he loved more than anything was his children. He always had open arms and provided for his family even when times were tough and sad. Bub always had a big heart and made sure his children and family knew that by his actions. Bub had been known to be quite the stubborn but through it all never gave up on his kids, through thick and thin. He was loved dearly by his children who wish they could fish just one more time, hang out just one more time and hug him just one more time but they know he has entered the pearly gates and is no longer in pain and suffering and has been reunited with his preceded family members.

His service will be held at Pontiac Lake at 5 pm, July 26th, 2024.
